F5 Big Ip Client For Mac

This option does not display if DNS suffixes were not defined Connect Starts and maintains a secure access connection at all times, regardless of the network location.. With a location-aware client enabled, a user with a corporate laptop can go from a corporate office, with a secured wireless or wired network connection, to an offsite location with a public wireless network connection, and maintain a seamless connection to allowed corporate resources.. Disconnect Stops an active secure access connection, and prevents the client from connecting again until a user clicks Connect or Auto-Connect.. When the computer is on a local network, the client disconnects, but remains active in the system tray.. The administrator specifies the networks that are considered in-network, by adding DNS suffixes to the connectivity profile.

When the computer is not on a defined local network, the secure access connection starts.. Auto-Connect Starts a secure access connection as it is needed This option uses the DNS suffix information defined in the connectivity profile to determine when the computer is on a defined local network..
